She was past 82 years old and leaves two sons—John Lucas of this city and Charley Lucas of Dayton, and a sister—Mrs. Laura Sullivan. Funeral services were held at the residence Monday afternoon and burial made in Greenville cemetery.

Rev. O. G. Colegrove and wife, who have been pastors of the Universalist church in this city, have accepted calls at Owatonna, Minn., and will soon leave for their new field of work.

Rev. Joshua Baker, 91 years old, died Monday in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harless Baker, at Pittsburg, this county. He leaves two sons—William and Joshua Baker, and two daughters—Mrs. Elizabeth Aukerman of Palestine and Mrs. Harless Baker. Burial in Abbottsville cemetery this forenoon.

Oscar Miller and Cyrus McGriff of this city were in an automobile that was struck by a west-bound Pennsylvania Lines passenger train about a mile east of Pikeville at 7:15 last Saturday morning. The rear end of the machine was hit and smashed to pieces, but both men escaped injury by jumping. The car was struck by the step on the locomotive, which was broken off by the impact, throwing the car into a ditch. It is said by those who witnessed the accident that it was unavoidable by the engineer, as Mr. Miller evidently did not see or hear the train approaching, or tried to beat it to the crossing.

Neal Fourman and family had a narrow escape from serious injury or death when their automobile was ditched last Sunday about a mile east of Fort Jefferson. They were descending a hill at rather a fast speed and coming to a sudden turn in the road, Mr. Fourman was unable to check up by a quick application of the brakes, and as a consequence the car swerved from the road into a ditch, turning completely over and striking a telephone pole, broke it off about half way from the ground. None of the occupants were much injured beyond a severe shaking up, although one of them—Miss Eva McFerron—was thrown from the car. The occupants of the car were Mr. Fourman, his wife and daughter Josephine, Misses Eva McFerron, Gladys Burns and Mercedes Curtis. The car was not damaged to any great extent, either, but had to be pulled into town via horse power.

An accident on a "Derby Racer" at Lakeside Park, Dayton, last Sunday when it jumped the track injured more than a dozen people, among them being several from this city. Those injured were Laura Irene Dininger, Earl Dininger and wife, Irene and Virgil Hoover and Mrs. Virgil Hoover. Laura Irene Dininger, three years old, was the most seriously injured, sustaining concussion of the brain, from which she may not recover, and Irene Hoover had her nose broken, besides minor injuries. The others escaped with painful bruises and cuts. Those most severely injured were taken to hospitals in the Gem City and are reported to be doing first rate, and no fatalities are expected, unless it may be the little three-year-old Dininger girl. It is believed the accident was the result of negligence or the brakes failed to work properly, although one eye witness declares the brakeman was ten feet away from the lever when the cars approached.

A Fly Town.
San Vicente, Mexico, is a community of fly catchers. It lies in the Sierra Madre mountains, and its industry consists in catching flies for a European market, where compressed fly cakes are used as bird food. The Mexicans harvest their crop on a marsh which breeds millions of black flies somewhat larger than the common house fly. During the season the peons go among the swarm of insects with nets. Each catch is emptied into a bag and at the end of the day the bags are emptied into a box, which is also a press. A cover is placed on it and pressed down and weighted with heavy stones. After twentyfour hours the contents are pressed into a layer. This is cut into six-inch cubes and dried in the sun and is then ready for export. The San Vicente community almost lives on this unique industry, says the Technical World.

A Clogged System Needs Attention.
Are you bilious, dizzy and listless? Dr. King's New Life Pills taken at once seizes upon constipation and starts the bowels moving naturally and easily. Moreover it acts without griping. Neglect of a clogged system often leads to most serious complications. Poisonous matters and a body poorly functioning need immediate attention. If you wish to wake up tomorrow morning happy in mind and entirely satisfied, start your treatment tonight. 25c a bottle. —Adv

Need Extra Care This Year with Seed Corn.
Because of the prevailing wet weather this summer, seed corn picked this fall is likely to contain a very high percentage of moisture. Extra care should be used and is necessary in storing the seed corn until planting time. In several states, farmers have agreed to select and store their seed corn together. Officers of farmers' clubs have been instructed to see that every farmer in the community has enough seed corn for the coming season. In one county, a Seed Corn Day has been set aside. On that day, the selecting of the seed corn is followed by a general picnic.

Don't Burn Your Straw Stack.
Burning straw is a wasteful practice. Anyone who burns a ton of wheat or oat straw destroys more fertilizing ingredients than are contained in the average ton of manure from the barnyard. The place for the straw is back on the land.

The Colds of Mankind Cured by Pines!
Have you ever gone through a typical pine forest when you had a cold? What a vigorous impulse it sent! How you opened wide your lungs to take in those invigorating and mysterious qualities. Yes, Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey possesses those stimulating qualities and overcomes hacking coughs. The inner lining of the throat is strengthened in its attack against cold germs. Every family needs a bottle constantly at hand. 25c. —Adv

Look Out For Him.

Secretary Brown, of the Eaton Commercial Club, has received a letter from D. V. L. Robinson, assistant secretary of the Dixie Highway Association, warning the merchants and members of the organization against any individual or concern claiming to represent the Highway Association in issuing a guide book of the Dixie Highway. The association has authorized no person or concern to represent it in this matter and says that it is "manifestly unfair to the touring public, the advertiser and to this association to publish such a guide at this time," as it is impossible at this time to give an accurate routing. —Eaton Register.

PETROGRAD.

The New Name is Simply a Return to the Original One.
The city heretofore known as St. Petersburg is in future to be called Petrograd. This apparent innovation is in reality a return to the name which Peter the Great's second capital had borne from the beginning. All the old books published in that city during the latter part of Peter's reign and those of his immediate successors bear the word Petrograd on the title pages. "Grand" and "gorod" are two forms of the same word, which means "city" or "town." Etymologically it signifies an enclosed space and belongs to the same root as the English word "garden." It occurs in hundreds of Slav geographical names—as, for instance, in Novgorod, "new town"; Ivanogorod, Elisabetogorod, Euxinogorod. Constantinople itself is often called in Russian the "emperor's city"—Czaregrad.
During the reigns of the Emperress Catherine and Elizabeth the mania for adopting foreign names was rife in Russia, and on many places known in old Russian history German names were bestowed, most of which remain to this day.
After the treaty of Berlin, when Count Ignatiev, who had been Russia's ambassador in Constantinople, came at first minister of the interior and then president of the Slavonic society, he, Karamov, and a number of other Slavophiles started a movement in favor of altering those German names to their Russian equivalents or to the original Slav appellations, wherever there was any such. In time, no doubt, Petroborf, Oranienbaum, Yekaterinburg, Orenburg and a host of other places will also be rechristened, and Count Ignatiev's proposal will be fully carried out. —Dr. E. J. Dillon in Manchester Guardian.
